BAPTISTS AND THEIR FRIENDS EAT TURKEY

LARGE ASSEMBLAGE AT BANQUET GIVEN BY LADIES OF BAPTIST CHURCH.

The oft-repeated charge that Baptists are very exclusive about whom they invite to their table was most overwhelmingly disproved last evening when the entire basement of the church was filled with merry banqueters who turned out to enjoy a feast. The ladies had worked faithfully and zealously for a week or two past, and as a result of their labors the guests found difficulty in disposing of the bountiful five or six course dinner spread before them.

Besides the feast, music was furnished during the entire evening by Misses Ida Enloe, Ruth Gibson and Mr. Marle Sears, who rank among the most talented young musicians of the city. Between courses Judge McKeown, in his usual happy manner, introduced the speakers who were on the program to respond to toasts. All of the speakers showed excellent judgment by making their responses short and pointed, thereby making them much more appreciated, and driving home thoughts that might have been entirely hidden and lost in extended speeches.

Judge Galbraith was the first speaker, responding to the toast: "The Church and Civilization." The speaker's central thought was the expression of a hope that since all churches are founded on the teachings of Christ and since all worship the same God, the time may come when there will be only one church.

Leslie Maxey gave some excellent thoughts on the relation of Christianity to good citizenship, and naming some essentials of good citizenship, the first of which is that a man should get married as speedily as possible. However, he requested that nothing on that subject be communicated by his hearers to the News reporter.

Judge U. G. Winn gave his views on the future of Ada, and told of its past growth upon which he based his prediction of a great future for the place. Whereas, Judge Galbraith had claimed that it was unfair to speak before eating, the genial postmaster figured it out that he himself might have done better had he been called upon before making away with so much food.

W. C. Duncan, who is painfully familiar with his subject, told of the trials of a Sunday school superintendent.

R. C. Roland responded to the toast: "The Ladies," and he passed compliments on them that would have done credit to a cavalier of ancient times.

S. M. Torbett was supposed to tell how the Baptists managed to build their fine new church, but he managed to secure an excellent substitute in Rev. C. Stubblefield, to whose untiring efforts much of the credit must be given. In his talk he praised the loyalty of his members, saying that never in his experience of a quarter of a century did he have the backing he had in this instance.

The last speaker on the program was Judge C. O. Barton, who gave his views on the duty of the church to the bad boy. Being so intensely interested in juvenile work, he was able to handle the subject as few others could. He also passed some fine eulogies on old maids and declared they are the salt of the earth, but not one good word did he say about the old bachelors.

No matter from what angle the banquet is viewed, it must be voted a great success.

"The Final Settlement" is a play which appeals to all, and has been pronounced by clergy, press and public as a moral lesson for old and young. We advise our patrons of the opera house to secure their seats in advance in order to avoid unnecessary disappointment on the night of Dec. 11 when "The Final Settlement" will be presented here for the first time.

SUPT. WILSON WILL OPPOSE AIKEN BILL

Oklahoma City, Dec. 8.—State Supt. R. H. Wilson, who has been attending the annual meeting of the Southern Educational association at Austin, and who has been absent since the Aiken bill, which aims to abolish thirteen state schools was filed with the secretary of state, came out strongly in opposition to the bill upon his return to the city, Thursday.

"I was away and had no communication with my office during my absence, and I know nothing of the agitation, aside from what I read in one newspaper clipping," he said. "I have noted that the state board of education is quoted as being divided on this question, but as to this matter I am sure I cannot say, as I have not heard a single member of the board express himself. Neither have I had any information as to how the board of agriculture feels about it."

"Personally, I am opposed to this bill. I do not doubt the sincerity of the originators of this movement, but I do deny that it is economy to concentrate our schools as contemplated in this bill, and at the proper time I shall submit figures in support of my views."

"I contend that a concentrated school system will result in a great school system for the classes, but will eliminate the masses."

In relation to the meeting of the association, Supt. Wilson stated that it was the best in the history of the organization, every southern state and a number of others being represented. The meeting was very enthusiastic and a spirit of harmony prevailed.

"While I was at Austin," he said, "the Oklahoma-Texas football game was played. I did not get to attend, but a number of Texas alumni were at the game, and it was very gratifying to me to hear them speak of the Oklahoma boys in the very highest and the game was spoken of as one of the cleanest they ever had seen. Not a criticism was offered."

Came Near Being Assassinated ! ! !

A man from across the street came into our store with a sharp butcher knife and asked for the man that wrote the advertisements for the Ladies' Specialty Store. Upon being introduced to Johnnie McKinley he assaulted him with his butcher knife, who proceeded to make him eat his knife, and our only solution to this unwarranted attack is that we advertised Fabian coats and suits for women Friday and Saturday at half price. DOES this man know that the Sherman LAW is in existence?

The News wishes to give its unequalled endorsement to the movement inaugurated by the women's clubs of Oklahoma to provide a loan fund by which deserving girls may secure the advantages of an education and thereby not only be able to command better salaries, but also being better fitted for the responsibilities of life than would otherwise be possible. The value of a good education is beyond computation and when one considers how few have the nerve and patience to really fight their way to final success in securing one, he naturally feels a warm interest in any movement the purpose of which is to lend a helping hand to the deserving. This plan of the ladies does not mean charity, for pride would forbid the very ones who most deserve it from getting the benefit, but it does mean that many deserving girls will be given the chance they are so earnestly seeking and that, too, when they need it most. In this connection the Twentieth Century Club of Ada is to be commended for its part in the movement. The club has undertaken to give a lyceum course during the present season, the profits from which will be applied on this fund. The course in itself is an educational feature of the city's life, so it serves a double purpose and deserves the active support of the citizens. The first number will be given at the normal auditorium Monday evening, when Mrs. Lilla G. English will lecture.

Now that the question of adopting the commission form of government is squarely before the citizens of Ada, it is up to them to select men to write the charter who have given some thought to the subject and who will take a pride in their work. We certainly want no man on the board of freeholders who is unfriendly to charter government. To put such a man in that position would give him just the opportunity he wanted to put sand into the bearings of the machinery, causing it to wear itself out while apparently in good shape. The News is not interested in any man's candidacy, but hopes to see good ones elected to write a charter best suited to conditions prevailing here.

The cry of those who desire to abolish the district schools on the ground that they foster a great big political ring, is the cry of the thief. They would like to make the university the nucleus around which, in a few years, the whole political body would form. We believe in the state university and will give it all the help within our power provided that they attend to their own business, but we are stronger for the district schools than for the university. If one or the other have to go we will favor the schools where the greatest number of the farmer boys can attend. Tishomingo News-Capital.

The Stonewall News seems to favor the Aiken bill, but its editorial condemning the state schools indicates that the editor simply went off half cocked, for his statements show a woeful lack of information on the subject. If he will take the trouble to visit the Ada normal for about an hour, and investigate for himself, we are of the opinion that he will come to a far different conclusion.

Two rival pipe lines are now said to be seeking an entrance into the Rock Creek oil field in Grady county. The development of this new field will mean a vast increase in the wealth of that community, already one of the most substantial in the state.

Young People Wanted.

This is the young people's age. The mantles are falling on their shoulders as never before. Never was greater preparation being offered by schools for the equipping for life's work and formation of character. The present hour is big with destiny for the young. The world is in a general renaissance. Quickened by a new conscience, old forms of life are dissipating and the sociological filter is being applied to all things.

Desiring to help the young people to understand the spirit of the times the pastor of the First Christian church announces for Sunday evening next the subject "The Modern World and the New Conscience." Every normal student should be present at this service. It will help them.

Municipal League to Meet.

Tulsa, Ok., Dec. 7.—The working of the commission form of government in cities in Oklahoma will be one of the chief matters of interest that will be considered by the Oklahoma Municipal League, which will meet in annual convention in this city Dec. 11, 12 and 13. Three years ago Tulsa pioneered the way for the commission form in Oklahoma in the face of opposition, not alone in this city, but from all parts of Oklahoma. Today there are about a score of Oklahoma municipalities under the commission government and the number is being added to almost every month.

Officers of the several cities enjoying this form of government will exchange experiences and suggestions at the coming meeting of the Municipal league.

Practically every incorporated town in Oklahoma is a member of the league, which has been in existence but one year, having been organized last December. A. F. McGarr, former Mayor of Muskogee, is president of the league.

Among other speakers of note who will address the convention are Gov. Cruce, former Gov. Haskell, Justice Williams of the Supreme court and Bishop Thurston of the Episcopal diocese of Eastern Oklahoma.

A False Alarm of Fire.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon the fire alarm was turned in and the boys responded, but it proved to be nothing more than some hulls which were being burned under the boilers of the oil mill. Some one had smelled them and supposing that a fire had started somewhere, turned in an alarm without taking time to investigate.

TULSA WILL PAY FIFTY-THREE BLOCKS

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 8.—(Special)—After wading through the bids of a dozen different paving companies, and considering nine different kinds of street paving material, the mayor and city commissioners of Tulsa were finally able today to decide upon the proposition and award the contract for fifty-three blocks of additional street paving. The contract was let to the Shelby-Downard company, of Ardmore, an Oklahoma institution using Oklahoma rock asphalt paving material. The contract price for the paving which included several blocks each on nine different streets was $135,536.46.

The awarding of a contract for an additional fifteen blocks of paving which will cost approximately $47,500 was postponed for the consideration of matters pertaining to the building of subways, etc., adjacent to the proposed paving.

Game Preserve Planned.

John B. Doolin, state game warden, is heartily in favor of the plan to establish a great game preserve in Oklahoma. The matter has been widely discussed by sportsmen and it is said the big preserve can be established and operated without cost to the taxpayers. The best place seems to be in southeastern Oklahoma, where there are many thousands of acres of hilly, timbered land, said to be ideal for such purposes. The state game and fish department is far more than self-supporting and it is believed that within a year or so the funds received from hunting licenses would be more than sufficient to purchase all the land needed. Under proper regulations, such a preserve would mean abundant game in Oklahoma for many years to come.

NOTICE TO BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN

The pastor of the First Christian Church announces for next Sunday evening a theme which should appeal to business and professional men. That the present age is in travail, the most superficial must recognize. A new code of ethics is being written and a new conscience born. The theme for the evening will be "The Modern World and the New Conscience," the first of a series on "General Sidelights on Christianity."

"Grate" Advice

Only experience can measure coal quality. You've got to burn any coal in your stove, grate or furnace to thoroughly know its superior goodness. Every person will concede the easy possibility of one brand of coal being better than another. When you buy coal of us you get the extreme limit of the best quality of soft coal mined from Mother Earth.

Remember if you get 1500 lbs. of lump coal and 500 lbs. of slack for a ton you have really only 1500 lbs. of coal as the slack is worthless to you. We would not let you have slack if you wanted it as we need it for our boilers, so be sure and get our prices before you buy.

A WARRANTY DEED IS A SNARE; A DELUSION! It often conveys absolutely a bad title. Your lawyer will tell you so. It is not a present help in time of trouble.

REASON: Should your title be unmarketable and you want to perfect it by hunting up old deeds, procuring releases; court decrees—every step will be at your expense—even though you find it impossible to sell the land or obtain a loan without taking such step.

ADVERSE CLAIMS: An adverse claim is asserted; suit is brought against you, finally you are ousted from the premises.

RESULT: You go on your vendorto MAKE GOOD his WARRANTY if you can find him.

JUDGMENT: The law will give you only a money judgment. COLLECT IT IF YOU CAN. No lawyer's fees—nothing for entranced value of land—merely what you paid him and interest—about 6 per cent.

INDEED! Warranty deed sows the seed you reap two law suits for your money and brawn and the land is lost at last.

ALDRICH'S BANK PLAN

OUTLINE OF MEASURE TO BE IN-TODUCED AT NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS.

The Aldrich banking bill will probably be taken up by the next session of congress and there is no doubt of its being a live issue for a long time to come. As it is being discussed in most of the papers, and in view of the campaign being carried on from New York in its behalf, the News gives the following outline of the plan in order that its readers may familiarize themselves with it and be able to judge for themselves of its merits and demerits.

In substance the plan provides as follows: Organization of a National Reserve Association with a capital of $300,000,000, in which the United States government and the banks owning shares in the association shall be the only depositors. State banks and trust companies which adopt national bank methods are eligible for membership in the association.

Subscribing banks may count as reserves their deposit balances with the Reserve Association, but the reserve need only be held, in the case of time deposits, 30 days before maturity.

National banks are permitted to organize savings departments, through which 40 per cent of deposits may be loaned on real estate.

Cash reserve amounting to one-third of notes outstanding must be maintained and any notes exceeding $900,000,000 must be covered by cash, while any issue exceeding $1,200,000,000 must pay 5 per cent tax unless covered by cash.

Two per cent bonds to the extent of $700,000,000, now held by the banks to cover circulation to be taken over and sold under long-term plan.

Commercial paper is rendered available for use as an auxiliary reserve by the banks.

The plan is to divide the United States into fifteen financial districts, in each district the banks forming local associations of their own, which will be represented in the branches, and also in the central organization by a system of election of directors, which, it is asserted, will make it impossible for any section or group of bankers to control the whole. The personnel of the board of directors will comprise six members ex officio, viz: the governor of the association, his two deputies, and the Secretary of the treasury, and the secretary of commerce and labor. Each of the financial districts, fifteen in number, will elect one director, twelve others will be elected by the shareholders, and these twenty-seven members will elect the remaining twelve members of the entire board of forty-five. Only three members may be elected from any one district, and thus its effect upon the state of New York with nearly one-fifth of the banking capital of the country, and which is the seat of the great financial interests, would limit its representation to four directors among the thirty-nine who are elected.

To provide for the $734,000,000 of 2 per cent government bonds now owned by the national banks, and used as the basis of note circulation, which are to be absorbed by the reserve associations, the following plan is proposed:

Upon the application of the reserve association, the secretary of the treasury shall exchange the 2 per cent bonds which the association will buy from the banks at par and accrued interest, for a new issue of 3 per cent securities, payable 50 years after the date of issue.

The reserve association will pay to the government a special franchise tax of 1 1-2 per cent per year on the amount of such bonds. As the government's actual interest charge on the 2 per cent is not actually 1 1-2 per cent, since the banks pay back a half of 1 per cent as a tax when the bonds are used as the basis of note circulation, this will reimburse the government for the extra interest it will be called upon to pay as a result of exchanging the 2s for 3s.

One effect of the exchange will be to enable the government to provide permanently for a large portion of the interest-bearing public debt at a net interest charge of 1 1-2 per cent. This arrangement proposes a solution of what many financiers declared the greatest obstacle to the plan. It disposes permanently of the bond-secured currency without loss to the government, and with out imposing upon the reserve association the ownership of $730,000,000 2 per cent bonds.

The association will agree to hold the 3 per cents for 50 years, but the secretary of the treasury, after five years, will have the option of permitting the association to sell the securities at a rate not greater than $50,000,000 a year. The government may reserve the right to redeem any of the bonds of the postal savings system or otherwise.

For the reserves of the association it is proposed that 50 per cent of its demand liabilities, including deposits and note issue, shall be covered by gold or other lawful money, with a provision that whenever the reserve falls below 50 per cent the association is bound to pay to the government special tax which increases in rate in proportion to the deficiency.

The operation of this in such instances is expected to stimulate an increase in the rate of discount and to bring in gold until the reserves again become normal.

Another new provision specifies that our citizens who own deposits in a clearing house. In this respect, some existing clearing houses are expected to become local associations. All local associations will be required to appoint examiners, which is a development of the movement for local admitted that it was true that fractional clearing house examiners now being promoted throughout the country.

One criticism of the first plan was that there was no way to remove a bank from an association. It has been provided that a local association may suspend a bank which fails to maintain its reserves or comply with other requirements of the law.

It is also provided that the note times be covered by at least one-third in gold or other lawful money. Any notes, however, issued in excess of $900,000,000 must either be covered by lawful money in full or pay a special tax at the rate of 1 1-2 per cent a year. Any notes issued in excess of $1,200,000,000 not covered by lawful money will pay a tax of 5 per cent.

Mr. Aldrich, in transmitting the plan to the commission, said that the system of reserves and taxes provided is expected "to insure the maintenance of adequate reserves by the association, and otherwise to provide such effective regulation of discounts and note issues as would enable the organization to respond promptly at all times to normal or unusual demands for credit or currency without danger of undue expansion or inflation."

How to Tell if Your Hair Is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. Ninety-eight per cent of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and prevent baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

Notice to Sewer Tax Payers

The Time to Prune Trees.

For years it has been a disputed question among fruit growers as to the best time of year to prune trees. This dispute appears to have come down from the age of mythology. The herbalists of two hundred years ago are very explicit in their directions as to consulting the signs of the Zodiac, and the necessity for so doing in order to tell anything about what the result would be from the pruning operation.

The development of the science of plant physiology during the last hundred years has gradually brought this and all other horticultural operations on to a more logical basis. The science of plant growth, as we know it today indicates very plainly that any pruning operations, however, indicate what time during the winter gives the best results for this purpose. Many growers favor the early part of winter, others with apparently as good reasons prefer to do the work in early spring. In the larger commercial plantings, which have come into existence in the more favored orchard sections, it is customary to begin pruning as soon as the leaves have fallen and keep it up on all days when the weather permits throughout the entire winter. It is with them, however, a question of getting it done at all. If they waited for any particular time, spring would find them with a large part of their pruning undone. I have asked many persons who had orchards of some size in their charge where they found any differences in results of the pruning done at different times during the winter. Their opinions are divided. The more reliable apparently think there is no difference that is due to the time of winter alone.

Most growers of peaches prefer to prune late in the winter, after the danger of winter injury is past. The reason for this is because the pruning will be modified according to the number of fruit buds killed. This, however, has nothing to do with the general question of whether there is any advantage attached to one portion of the winter over all others.

The handling of the limbs while the wood is frozen appears to do injury but the amount of this injury is a matter of much dispute. Most orchardists of experience will not prune trees at any time when the thermometer registers below freezing. It is very doubtful if these rules in regard to freezing apply unless the gloved hands come in contact with the branches.—N. O. Booth, Dept. of Horticulture and Botany, A. & M. College, Stillwater.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my friends and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers, but as I grew older it commenced to come out. When my hair was quite thin and gray, I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to try a bottle; and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found my hair was fast coming back to its natural condition. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur until my hair was as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I began using Sage and Sulphur and my hair is in splendid condition.

Look Around and Don't Get Stuck

There's a difference in the quality of lumber—and in prices, too—and unless you look around a bit before placing your bill for that new—well! whatever it is you are going to build—you're mighty apt to get stuck.

What's the use of taking chances, anyway? We'll be only too glad to make you an estimate on whatever you want in lumber or any kind of building material, and if we can't prove that it's to your advantage to buy from us, then you can go elsewhere. But get our figures, anyway.

will be endangered by success of the Aiken bill. The section sets aside land Sections 13, located in the Cherokee outlet, Tonkawa and Pawnee Indian reservations, for support of the state university, University preparatory schools and the State Normal schools. Revenues from these lands are divided as follows: One-third to the state University and preparatory school, one-third to the Colored A. & M. University, and one-third to State Normal schools, "established or hereafter established." The same section provides that the revenues from the lands or the proceeds from their sale can only be used "exclusively for the benefit of said institutions."

Section 10 of the enabling act provides that the public land granted by the federal government shall be used for "designated purposes only," leading the bill's opponents to declare that if any of the normal schools are abolished the proportion of these funds going to the such institutions, would be entirely lost, since they could be used for no other purpose. As a clincher, they show provisions of the enabling act were incorporated in the state constitution.

School Question Split.

Whether the Aiken bill carries or not, the state school question is split wide open. It will require some years to heal the breach, and for several sessions of the legislature, at least, it will be a contending war over appropriations with desultory attempts to discipline those towns not made the center of attack by the Aiken bill. The division of state democratic leaders is also marked. Gov. Cruce, while in no sense originator of the bill, declares he is for the idea it seeks to put in force, therefore will support the movement. Ex-Gov. Haskell, during whose administration most of the institutions were located, announces that he will lead the fight against the bill's adoption. This is also true of William H. Murray of Tishomingo, opponent of Cruce in the 1909 primary campaign. It is believed as practically certain the fight will lead to an organized attack upon Cruce.

No Effect on Governor.

Others of the state administration, and some of them the governor's appointees, are for and against the bill, and irrespective of what the governor believes those of the latter class are prepared to show allegiance to their home towns in preference to a political policy. Differing with him on other matters has had no effect upon the governor. It is safe to assume that it will not in this instance.

HENRY WOULD JAIL TRUST MAGNATES

(By Clyde H. Tavenner.)
A Democratic Way.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—Congressman R. L. Henry, of Texas, chairman of the Rules Committee of the House, will make an effort during the coming session of congress to so amend the Sherman anti-trust law that "trust criminals," as he terms them, may be put in jail when they violate the law. He is convinced there is no other remedy for the trust evil.

"Fines and dissolution suits are child's play for trust magnates," he said, explaining the bill he will introduce. "Felon's stripes is the only remedy for these commercial outlaws who violate the law. My bill legislates the 'rule of reason' out of the Sherman law, and specifically defines just what constitutes a trust, so that there can be no further evasion on the ground that the statute is ambiguous."

The Henry bill will provide imprisonment for not less than two years for each violation. The Texas member has assurances, he says, that his bill will become a law.

"Economy of Production."

Tainted news articles are being sent out from Washington to the effect that if the steel trust is forced to dissolve it will be too bad for the poor consumers, for they will henceforth be deprived of the "economy of production" resulting from the one man management of the steel business of the country. The literature goes on to say that a great saving in the cost of manufacture has been effected by the scientific systemization of steel manufacture by the trust.

The fact is, however, that the present prices of tin plate, wire and wire products, are from 10 to 50 per cent higher than the prices that prevailed before the formation of the tin plate and wire trusts in 1898. As a result of the "economy of production" which accompanied the birth of the barb wire trust, the price of that article jumped from $1.50 per hundred pounds in 1898, to $4.13 in 1899. The present price is $2.05, and the quality much inferior to that turned out before the trust was formed.

The steel rail pool has maintained the price of steel rails rigidly at $28 a ton every day since the steel corporation was formed. Previously, steel rails were selling well below $20 a ton.

The rule has been that prices have advanced rapidly when trusts were formed. If, as the steel trust literature alleges, there were great "economies" of production, the same has gone to pay dividends of highly watered stock, to offset heavy contributions to republican campaign funds and to make up the $29,000,000 of clear profit that J. P. Morgan drew down for the part he played in organizing the illegal steel trust.

Retailers Are Bad Men!

The retailers, and not the trusts, nor the tariff, are responsible for the ever-increasing cost of living in the United States! At least, if the semi-official statements as to the work of the tariff board are to believe, this is the kind of a report that is to emanate from that body. "Up with the tariff rates! Down with the dry goods merchant and the corner grocer." will likely be the protectionist cry from now henceforward until November, 1912. The tariff board, composed of protectionists and near-protectionists, started out with the obvious determination of finding the tariff not guilty, and they intend to return such a verdict, even though the political heavens fall.

BUILD ROAD IN ONE DAY

HOW LINCOLN COUNTY CITIZENS SOLVED GOOD ROADS PROBLEM.

Chandler, Okla., Dec. 7.—The persistent blowing of whistles and ringing of bells and firing of guns Thursday morning in Lincoln county announced dawn of day when the greatest event in the history and progress of the county would be accomplished. By 7 o'clock nearly two thousand teams and more than that many men were scattered along the thirty-three miles of highway that was to be improved before the sun went down.

This great army of men was not of common labor type; they were made up of the best-to-do and most prominent and progressive citizens of Lincoln county, and every man was there to do his level best.

A ride along the road showed every man in action. An inspection of the work, the most thorough organization and the most surprising intelligence in their plans. There was a captain in charge of each section of work who was from one-half to one mile in length and each captain was supplied with specifications for grades and ditches. Each captain knew exactly what he wanted to do and each man and team was placed where he could do the most work in the limited time.

Most of the stores in the towns within the district were closed, in keeping with the proclamation issued by the mayor of each town, and the towns were practically deserted during the day. Men from the towns supplied extra hands for filling and dumping scrapers, using the axe and removing roots and obstacles in the way of the teams and tools and in shoveling ditches and unloading wagons. It seemed an easy task and was taken in the way of a picnic by most of the townspeople and by the noon hour many of them were greatly fatigued by their pursuit and the farmers helped them through the day.

The ladies in each district brought their baskets filled with many good things to eat and great pots of boiling coffee after five hours of strenuous work every man was able to do full justice to the occasion.

This picnic extended from one end of the county to the other and will be long remembered. Many practical jokes and many amusing things were indulged in along the line to keep the occasion from being too serious, one thing being to establish a toll line in many places along the line of construction.

When a traveler attempted to pass that way he was called upon to contribute one dollar to the cause or suffer the penalty of having his vehicle upset. The traveler soon learned that he was up against a game and traveled only a few miles until he reached another section line.

A man caught resting on his spade or delaying his team had his tobacco taken away from him and was threatened with the inconvenience of doing without his noonday meal. A person who could not do well a light duty was forced to exchange with a party who was doing more laborious work. So the day passed with many pleasantries along with the usual day's labor.

The contest between Hugh Johnson president of the First National bank, and Colonel Hoffman, was decided a draw.

United Charities Holds Meeting.

Thursday afternoon the United Charities organization held a meeting with Rev. Leroy Anderson as temporary chairman. About fifteen were present. Dr. Lister met with the members and gave an outline of the organized charities of Shawnee, through which the undeserving are kept track of and the deserving cases given the proper attention.

It was decided to make an appeal for the appointment of a suitable probationary officer to keep track of delinquent boys and girls and aid in the work of reclaiming them. It was also decided to take up the matter of a young girl who is said to be in an improper environment and try to have her placed in better surroundings. This case will be heard by the court Saturday morning.

Another meeting of the organization will be held Saturday and the matter of giving a Christmas tree taken up.

A deserving case of charity was reported, and it was ordered that food and a supply of groceries be sent the lady who is ill and unable to care for herself.
